

A FALL SCHEDULE FOR HOME MAINTENANCE

If you live in a place where the leaves change during autumn, you know how beautiful the foliage can be. The only problem is collecting those leaves as the season grows colder. Even for those who live in a moderate climate, fall is high time for major home maintenance.

- Prepare for colder temps by flushing your hot water heater to remove dirt and sediments.
- Store patio or lawn furniture indoors, and organize your garage or shed.
- If you have one, have your chimney inspected and swept.
- Check the hoses of your dryer, and ensure all lint traps and filters are clear to prevent fire.
- Repair any cracks around windows and doors to prevent outside air from leaking in.
